

ROSES

Prefer open sunny position. Are hungry feeders. Prepare beds well in advance with incorporation of rotted manure or compost. In subsequent years fertilizer may be used as a top dressing.

Roses can be stunted if planted in old rose beds without renewing the soil. Be prepared to spray for aphid, blackspot, rust and mildew. Collect and burn fallen rose leaves to aid disease prevention.

On planting, shorten all stems to 4 buds. In following years, maintain a framework of 4 to 6 main stems, reducing season's growth to 3 buds for H.T. and 5 for Floribunda. Deadheading promotes new flowers.

MINIATURE GROUND COVER & PATIO

£5.50 each open ground £6.50 each containerised

Treat as Floribunda roses. Ideal for low bedding or in mixed borders of low planting. Ideal as an alternative to grass for banks. Arching habit covers difficult areas such as tree stumps. These vigorous roses are not suitable to mix with other ground covering plants. They are best left to areas they may take for themselves. Do plant in clean ground as uncomfortable to weed amongst later. Low maintenance, shear over in Winter or Spring.

SHRUB ROSES £7.00 each open ground £8.00 each containerised

Shrub roses may attain height and width of 120cm-180cm (4-6 feet) depending on variety. Many have interesting foliage and/or decorative hips. Only deadhead repeat flowering varieties. Remove 1/3 of old wood each year at base to keep open and retain character. Early flowering varieties April/May. Majority of varieties flower June. Repeat varieties continue all summer. Often mistakenly confined to their own border. They have much character to contribute in a mixed border.
